

DATA PROTECTION AND PRIVACY POLICY

Our Privacy Policy is in accordance with the new GDPR (General Data Protection Regulations as of May 2018)

Our policy covers personal information which we collect and you provide to us at High Clandon Estate Vineyard, whether through our website, Visitor's Book and any other data collected by electronic communications. Information which is attached to your name or contact details (any information that can be traced back to an individual person) is Personal Information and is used only to improve our service to you.

Personal Information Disclosure. We will not use or disclose your personal information without your consent, except as required by law.

Use of Personal Data. We may use personal data provided by you to help us improve our service and quality. On occasion, if needed when organising an event and to ensure it runs smoothly, we may release certain data to named co-organisers without your consent. All our helpers and employees who have access to, or process personal data, are required to respect the confidentiality of your personal data held by us.

Mailings (Emails for example). Subscribers will receive emails about our events and offers and will always be offered details on how to unsubscribe. If you choose to unsubscribe from High Clandon Estate Vineyard emails or wish to see or amend the personal information we hold about you, please contact us as shown below.
